8:58 PM me: are we now sure that Forbes won't debate at the last minute?
8:59 PM Antonio: yeah
I'm confident saying yeah me: okay
Antonio: by the way - I have to admit, I was a bit on the noob side - had never used reddit before but it's pretty damn awesome me: it's a fantastic resource in a lot of ways Antonio: and 9:00 PM me: and it's one of those things in which the potential has yet to be reached Antonio: it does seem like your entry is "hot" right now so would it be best if Wynne answered the questions tomorrow?
me: Sure
Antonio: or should we do as you suggested and create a new post for questions (though it does seem a bit repetitive) 9:01 PM me: I'll put up a new post for him to do so and I can also paste the answers into replies in the original post
I'll set it up tomorrow at whatever time then you guys can control of the account and do the answers 9:02 PM Antonio: is that really a smarter idea? The one we've got now is at 1329 points, which seems like a lot 9:03 PM oh - you're saying do both? me: well, having another one will mean another chance to get lots of points and thereby have two posts about Wynne on the front page
yep
Antonio: make a new post and copy them okay sounds good I'm going through the one we've got now me: yeah. What time is best for you guys?
Antonio: picking out the best 15 or so substantive questions hmm
well midday tomorrow I suppose 9:04 PM me: okay, sounds good 9:05 PM Antonio: also

I love how many people just straight up lied about contributing to the campaign there's at least 3 people who said they gave since it went up but we've only gotten the one $10 in online since and something tells me

9:06 PM people on Reddit are not the kinds to mail checks to a PO Box me: well, you should set up a paypal account unless you already have one

Antonio: yeah I know our buggers of data servers said we couldn't

9:07 PM I don't know how it's possible to not have something but eh

me: that's a shame

Antonio: I'm not one to argue with people who know more about technology than me me: anyway, I'm going to see what I can do about getting some national attention on this reddit deal

9:08 PM now to the bar, will have blackberry with me
adios

Antonio: so long
